

Contents

Foreword (Dorota Prysak, Magdalena Betza)	15
--	----

Part I

Constructing a social reality of people with disabilities

Anna Nowak Prevention of social exclusion of people with disabilities	21
Marzenna Zaorska Problems in life of young and adult deaf-blind people with a low functionality level in the light of reality, expectations and received declarations of help . . .	31
Jolanta Zielińska Research in the area of disability in the context of neurobiology	43
Igor Hampl Sexuality of people with hearing disability	53
Bernadeta Szczupał Vocational activation and employment of persons with rare and multiple disabilities	63
Barbara Trochimiak Didactics of the 21 st century – the necessity of therapy?	77

Part II

Constructing a therapeutic reality of people with disabilities

- Ewa Rudnicka-Drożak, Justyna Natora, Ewa Dutczak, Agnieszka Żabińska*
The process of social and vocational rehabilitation of people with disabilities in occupational therapy workshops, and the prospects of finding employment for graduates of these institutions 91
- Mateusz Penczek*
The autonomy of persons with disabilities from the perspective of the capabilities approach to human development forwarded by Martha Nussbaum 103
- Agnieszka Sokołowska-Kasperiuk*
Utopia or grassroots work? – children with developmental disorders and the reality of education (on the example of school and educational center for the blind and visually impaired) 113

Part III

Constructing an educational reality of people with disabilities

- Petr Franiok*
Learners with intellectual disabilities and special character of their education 127
- Beata Gumienny*
Changes in the educational profile of students with profound multiple intellectual disabilities 139
- Katarzyna Pajk*
Students' opinions on the way media creates an image of intellectually disabled people 151
- Renata Kovářová*
Students with special needs in higher education in the Czech Republic 173
- Beata Tylewska-Nowak*
People with disabilities in higher education – some aspects. The research report 181

Discussion on reality of people with disabilities in academics and practitioners overview

- Dorota Prysak*
The report of the 10th anniversary International Scientific Conferences in Ustroń. 201
- Magdalena Bełza*
Breakout session “The world seen from the other side – the expectations of people with disabilities”. 205