

Contents

Introduction ( Ilona Fajfer-Kruczek ) . . . . .	11
--	----

Articles, polemics, discussions

Zenon Gajdzica

Social policy of the local government unit as an initiator of good practices in activating the disabled . . . . .	13
---	----

Ilona Fajfer-Kruczek

Social capital – an important element of the local support system for the disabled	25
--	----

Bogusław Stelcer

Promoting mental welfare and personal resources of people with special life necessities . . . . .	37
---	----

Magdalena Bełza, Agnieszka Żabińska

The intellectually disabled person as a patient . . . . .	53
---	----

Urszula Bartnikowska, Katarzyna Ćwirynkało

Disability of a male versus the possibilities and limitations in fulfilling the father's role . . . . .	63
---	----

Sylvia Wrona

The demand versus support received by parents of disabled children exemplified by local activities in integrated primary school . . . . .	81
---	----

Zdenka Šándorová

Social and community work in the early support of the child's development – some good examples from the Czech Republic . . . . .	91
--	----

Danuta Jankowska

General social norms in the life of learners with mild intellectual disability and in the intellectual norm . . . . . 105

Ewa Gawlik

Social competences of learners from care-educational institutions . . . . . 117

Łukasz Banaszak, Bartłomiej Skrzyński

The significance of lifelong education in improving the quality of life and professional qualifications of adults with disability – some experts' reflections . . . . 129